To be eligible for home to school transport, a child must be attending full time education at a school in Reception or in Years 1 to 11. East Riding of Yorkshire Council only provides home to school transport for pupils who live in its area. If you live outside the East Riding, you should contact the local education authority responsible for the area where you live.

Your child might be eligible for free school transport if:

- they receive free school meals and live within the qualifying distance from your home to their school
- you receive your maximum level of working tax credit and live within the qualifying distance from your home to your child's school
- you receive a letter from East Riding of Yorkshire Council stating your child's entitlement
- your home address is within the school catchment area and over the qualifying walking distance to the school
- your child is attending their nearest catchment area school and the walking route to and from that school has been assessed as unsuitable walking route by the council. OR if the measured available walking route when the child is accompanied by an adult can be walked in reasonable safety and is over the qualifying walking distance.
- If your child is automatically eligible for free home to school transport when they transfer from Year 6 to Year 7, you will receive a letter from East Riding of Yorkshire Council by the end of April. This letter will explain how to apply for your child's free transport pass.

Not sure if your child is eligible?
